ABSTRACT

The bibliographies identify over 1,000 titles of documents about the state of Virginia which are contained in the Educational Media Examination Center of the Virginia Department of Education. Documents are classified by the Dewey decimal system. Subject areas represented include religion, sociology, political science, law, education, commerce, medicine, agriculture, fine arts, United States history (categorized by period), state history, and city and county history. Some citations for fiction are included. The documents include recently published overviews of public school development in the state, novels about life in the state during various periods of its history, collections of folklore and museum holdings, analyses of political decisions made on governmental levels, and biographies of famous Virginians. For each entry, information is given on author, title, publisher, and publication date. (AV)
